FOUR STRAIGHTS

Won By Local Ball Team Last Week.

Clarksville Proved An Easy Mark In Last Two Games Played Here.

The Hopkinsville team is now at Clarksville and played the first game of the series yesterday. After finishing up the three games at that place they will return here for a series of games with Vincennes, commencing Thursday. Henderson then comes here for three games with the locals, beginning Monday, June 27. Hopkinsville has a winning team and large crowds should witness the contests scheduled for this city this week and next.

The game here Saturday between Clarksville and the locals was won "dead easy" by Hopkinsville, the score being 10 to 4. Bonar occupied the box for Hopkinsville and his pitching and Hoeppe's two home runs were the features of the game. The last home run in which the ball was knocked over the west fence for the second time, brought in four men, making five scores for that inning. The spectators in their enthusiasm raised a purse of $6.50, which was presented to Hoeppe by Miss Tony Ware.

The first game of the series between Hopkinsville and Clarksville, played here Friday, was an eleven inning contest, and was won by the local team by the score of 8 to 7. Up to the eighth inning it looked like the visitors would carry off the honors, but Hopkinsville braced up made three runs in the eighth and three more in the ninth. The locals made one run in the sixth inning and this added to the scores in the eighth and ninth tied the score, the visitors having made four runs in the second inning, one in the fourth and two in the ninth. In the tenth inning neither team scored, but in the eleventh Hopkinsville made a run, thus anting the score and winning the game. Doubtless twirled for Hopkinsville and Weakley for the visitors. The Tennessee pitcher in the early part of the game was invincible, but after the seventh inning the Hopkinsville boys batted the ball all over the field.

The third game of the series between the Tennesseans and locals was transferred to Henderson and was won by Clarksville, the score being 10 to 5. This gave Clarksville only one of the three games played with Hopkinsville.

There were no games Sunday, either at Paducah or Vincennes, on account of rain.

Hopkinsville defeated Paducah last Thursday in the contest at Paducah, the score being 10 to 4. This gave two games of the series to the local club.

At Cairo Thursday Clarksville won by the score of 2 to 0. This was the fastest game played in the K. I. T. league this season, only fifty-six minutes being consumed.

The same day at Vincennes Henderson played an errorless game, winning by the score of 8 to 0.

At Cairo Friday the Egyptians won easily from Henderson, as the score--7 to 1--indicates.

The game at Vincennes the same day between Paducah and the Indians resulted in a victory for Vincennes. Twenty runs were made, the score being 10 to 9.

Vincennes and Paducah played at Paducah Saturday. The game was a very close and exciting one and resulted in a victory for Vincennes by the score of 2 to 1.

Henderson and Cairo played at Cairo Saturday and the Hens were shut out, the score being 2 to 0 in favor of the Egyptians.

They were brought here from Eddyville Friday night to testify against Bass.

JAPANESE LOSSES

Subject Leaders to Severe Criticism at Tokio.

Russians Sending Their Best General To The Front.

A rumor coming from Chinese sources to the effect that the Japanese have captured one of the inner forts at Port Arthur, losing 1,000 men in the engagement, is being circulated at Che Foo. It is without confirmation. It is stated at St. Petersburg that Gen. Kurapatkin has taken personal direction of war operations, and the Russians are expecting better reports from the field in consequence. A dispatch from Tokio says the Vladivostok squadron destroyed five Japanese transports on its recent raid. There is much dissatisfaction in consequence, and Admiral Kammura is being violently criticised for his failure to engage the Russian squadron in battle. Some of Kammura's critics are asserting that if he fails to fight the Russian vessels he should either resign or commit suicide.

BOUGHT FRANCHISE.

Home Telephone to Have An Exchange at Whitesville.

The trustees of the village of Whitesville advertised to sell a franchise granting the privilege of building a telephone system in that town, and on Friday of this week it was bought by the Home Telephone Company, which will at once begin the construction of an exchange there. The location is a promising one, and it is expected to start off with fifty subscribers. The Home company is now engaged in building an exchange at Maceo Power's Station. The switchboard is now being installed, and before another week a large number of the telephones will be operating. In addition the Home company has a large force of men at work extending the lines of its West Louisville exchange to Delaware and Belch Grove. Extensive additions are also being made by this company to its Stanley, Sorgho and Enos exchanges.

Within a few days the apparatus will be received for adding forty per cent to the capacity of the Owensboro Home exchange. It was expected earlier, but the demand upon the Independent Telephone manufacturers has been such that they are months behind their orders. Owensboro Inquirer.

EIGHTEEN APPLICANTS.

The next examination of white applicants will take place July 15 and 16. At the same time there will be a competitive examination for appointment to the State College at Lexington.

LIFE AT HIGH ALTITUDES.

Extreme Temperatures That Are Endured by British Soldiers Invading Tibet.

The British expedition to Tibet stands in quite as much danger from the extremes of temperature the soldiers are called upon to endure as from the bullets of the natives of that little known country. The "mission," as the invasion is diplomatically called, has necessitated the continued exposure of a very large number of trained men to life at altitudes ranging from 10,000 feet and 15,700 feet, and the general results are of considerable value.

The lowest temperature yet reached on the route has been 25 degrees F. at Chugpia, on the Tanga, which was, however, only an encampment. Of actual nightly exposure to cold of men and animals Tana probably holds the record with 17 degrees F. But Phari has repeatedly reached 15 degrees F., and Kamparab, nine miles distant from Phari, might, if continual registration had been possible there, show a lower figure than either. The normal night minimum during January and February is probably 10 degrees F. for 15,000 feet, warming to 7 degrees F. for 10,000 feet.

Mountain sickness has been closely observed by the medical men accompanying the mission. Indigestion has been common on account of the eating of imperfectly cooked food. At 15,000 feet water boils at a temperature of about 30 degrees F. lower than at sea level, and the normal amount of cooking is therefore quite inadequate. At 15,000 feet it is almost impossible to boil rice properly. The dal, the common red lentil of India, affords a curious example of the difficulty of cooking at high elevations. Out of five different kinds of dal supplied to the troops only one is capable of being cooked at all at heights above 10,000 feet. It is difficult to make the native understand these aberrations of gastronomy, and a great deal of insufficient cooking has been the natural result.

REGARDING MISQUOTATIONS

Quotations Used by Young Writers Should in Every Instance Be Verified.

One of the rules that even young writers and readers should bear in mind is this: "Verify your quotations." And, if possible, go to the original source rather than rely on other authority, advises the author of "Books and Reading," in St. Nicholas. The reason for the rule is easy to see. Usually a quotation becomes popular because it is worth while, and to misquote is often to lose the value of the words. Thus people often say: "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing." But that is not true. All knowledge is worth having, even a little. They mean "half knowledge," or incorrect knowledge, which is not really knowledge at all. When Pope wrote was: "A little learning is a dangerous thing," and what he meant was that a little learning makes one presumptuous, while thorough learning gives humility--an idea likewise set forth in the saying that wisdom begins with the feeling that one is ignorant.

So, verify your quotations for fear you may put into currency a counterfeit note.

At the same time it is to be remembered that some few quotations have been improved by changes introduced by those who have misquoted. These improvements are rare, however, and it is safest to retain the old form where there is any doubt.

Another usual misquotation besides that mentioned is: "The quality of mercy is not strained; It falleth as the gentle dew from Heaven."

which you may correct for yourself, and then may inquire whether it is likely that the popular change is an improvement, when the nature of dew is understood.

From a Leading Druggist.

As druggists and retailers of patent medicines, we can say conscientiously that we haven't a patent on our selves that we sell as much as a pain in my back. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me. It is without doubt the best medicine and the largest seller that we ever had.

DANGER IN HAND-SHAKING.

The Touching of Fingers in Mutual Pressure Nothing More Than Exchange of Microbes.

A Belgian savant has discovered that there is danger in shaking hands. He has recently published a treatise in which he says that the mutual pressure of the hand in friendly salutation means nothing more than an exchange of microbes, says Medical Talk for the Home.

He has found that there are 80,000 microbes inhabiting every half-inch of the hand, and if they are disturbed by a handshake they will arouse themselves, break up camp, and go over and settle on the other hand, so that in every hand-shake there is a mutual exchange of microbes.

This learned man goes on to say that the most dangerous persons to shake hands with are the doctors, surgeons, nurses, hairdressers, butchers, sausage-makers, tripe merchants, tanners and leather-dressers. When you meet any of these people put your hands behind you and absolutely refuse to shake hands with them. Tell them you don't want to trade microbes with them. That the kind they have are dangerous and you don't want to mix them up with yours, which are harmless.

There are a few people, according to this savant, that we may probably be safe in shaking hands with, though he is not quite sure. They are the ones who work in metal. He thinks the metal would soon set up a sort of oxidation that would act as an antiseptic. So if you happen to meet a work-er in metal you can practice hand-shaking on him with little fear of any bad results, as far as microbes are concerned.

But as we cannot always know what a person's occupation is, if we accept this Belgian savant's opinion, we had better quit shaking hands and salute our friends only with our heads and our hats. Or we might always wear gloves. That would probably keep the microbes from getting mixed.

SOMETHING OF A VACABOND

The Name of the Man Who Started Apple Culture in the West Is Forgotten.

The history of the apple in the United States is almost contemporaneous with the settlement of the country. It is definitely known, states an exchange, that the first apple trees planted in America were imported by the Dutch settlement at New York in 1614. Apple trees were also known to have been growing at Jamestown, Va., as early as 1622. Until within the last half century apples were grown almost solely for cider-making, as is the case today in France. As hard cider will produce drunkenness and a horrible catzenjammer, William Penn advised his colonists in Pennsylvania to cultivate indigenous fruits alone, as apples were then used almost exclusively for making cider or apple pie.

Many of the orchards of the pioneers of the middle west were grown from seeds obtained in a peculiar way. Some man whose name has been forgotten, and who is remembered only by the appellation of "Apple-Seed Johnny," traveled through the west and scattered among the settlers untold quantities of apple seeds. He gave them away free of charge and he was given a hearty welcome at every cabin door.

The last decade or two has shown wonderful development of the large commercial apple orchards in the west and the industry has now assumed large proportions. Apples, for instance, are exported to England and many foreign countries. Apple cores from the big drying establishments are purchased by eastern buyers and shipped to France to be used in the adulteration of wines and champagne. A large part of this champagne and wine is shipped back to America in wine casks made at Poplar Bluff, Mo., in the largest barrel factory in the world.

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it;
no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scurfs and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever." STONE A. HAINES, Wichita, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Aside from all political preferences or considerations, one bare fact was brought out in the trial of the Bradburn Galloway election contest at Bowling Green, that ought not to be passed over lightly. A difference of 200 or 300 votes in the Green returns means that four election officers in each of three precincts, including representatives of both parties, swore to false returns, or else the ballots have been changed in the sealed boxes since election. It is high time to get rid of the secret ballot in Kentucky and go back to the old fashioned method of an open record and a fair count.

The Republican National Convention meets in Chicago today and the only question to decide is whether the ticket shall be Roosevelt and Fairbanks or Teddy and Hunt. It seems to be practically assured that the Indiana Senator will be on the tail of the ticket.

ORDERS ISSUED

To Rural Route Carriers, In Effect July 1.

They Are Directed to Send to Newspapers Lists of Subscribers.

In a recent issue of the Kentuckian was published an order of the Postmaster General to rural route carriers, defining their duties and setting forth restrictions. A further order reads as follows:

"Carriers, while on duty, are not permitted to carry spirituous liquors, either for themselves, for sale, or for the accommodation of their patrons.

"Rural carriers are required to permit postoffice inspectors, or other duly accredited agents of the Postoffice Department, to accompany them on their regular trips over their routes. They must not carry other passengers nor permit any person, other than authorized postal officials, to ride with them or have access to the mails.

"Rural carriers must not engage in any business during their prescribed hours of service, or conduct any business after hours which offers the temptation to solicit patronage on their routes, or which, by reason of their position in the government service, gives them special advantages over competitors, such as book canvassing, soliciting insurance, selling sewing machines, or other kindred occupations.

"Carriers must not, either in person or through others, directly or indirectly, by any method whatever, solicit money, gifts or presents; nor issue, for profit, souvenirs or postal handbooks; nor co-operate with or assist the publishers of same to secure the patronage of the public; nor compile directories for public use or assist publishers to compile them nor furnish the names and addresses of patrons of their routes, for pay or favor, to any business establishment, or to any individual except to those departmental officials who, under the regulations, are entitled to the same."

The Postmaster General's department has also issued an order directing all rural letter carriers, who may be the agents of newspapers, to forward to such papers complete lists of the names of their subscribers on their respective routes. This order on the part of the rural carriers is to be complied with immediately, and it will give considerable relief to the newspapers, because of the issuance of the order forbidding rural carriers to act as agents.

Steffens Listened.

The general public does not realize the attitude the real journalist holds towards his work.
A story in illustration is told by Linton Steffens, of McClure's Magazine. Recently while gathering material for one of his articles on the misgovernment of cities he chanced to be in the smoking compartment of a train on his way to the particular city then under consideration, with two strangers.
These men began to talk of inside political matters in that city and in the course of their conversation revealed many important political secrets. Mr. Steffens overheard all and said nothing. The next morning he introduced himself to one of the men, told him of his purpose and asked him if he had any further information to impart.
The politician was completely confused and rushed to tell his friend of their exposure. Two very anxious politicians awaited the publication of Mr. Steffens' article and no doubt heaved great sighs of relief when they discovered that he had used none of the information thus given him. Confidences are not news.

Fifty-Eighth Congress, First Session.

The first session of the Fifty-eighth Congress lasted 139 days; the shortest first session for many years.

It talked 6,155 pages of the Congressional Record. Its word output stands third. The Fifty-seventh Congress was proudly first, with 8,414 pages; the Fifty-sixth second, with 7,765. At the first session of the Fifty-eighth 294 public bills and 1,897 private ones were passed. In the number of bills introduced it "beats" all other "records." More than 16,000 bills were brought in. Nearly 3,000 reports were made. Congress earns its money. It talks enough; and this is a great and necessary part of its functions. Let off the steam!

WORK AT THE WRECK

Adds Forty-One More Bodies To Slocum List.

Total Now Standing at 624. While Something Over 300 Are Yet Missing and Uncounted For.

New York, June 19.—Sunday's harvest of dead from the steamer General Slocum numbered forty-one, bringing the total number of bodies so far recovered up to 624. Of these 569 have been identified, while 31 of the victims now lying at the morgue have not been claimed by friends or relatives.

While the list of missing has been cut down somewhat by the identifications made today, eleven new ones were added to that roll, thus leaving the total of missing almost as it was on Saturday—something more than 300.

Early this morning the searchers began anew the work of locating the Slocum's dead. Within an hour they had recovered ten bodies off the shore of North Brother Island. Three of the bodies were floating, and it is the general opinion that many more will come to the surface during the week.

In the Wreck.

Divers who went to the wreck found the bodies of a woman, a girl and a boy and brought them to the surface. They were burned beyond recognition. The divers said there are more bodies in the wreck, thus bearing out the statement made a day or two ago, as it was thought the wreck had been cleared, that many bodies were under the entanglement, timbers and machinery.

Everybody's Magazine.

The most sensational feature any American magazine has captured in its pages is Thomas W. Lawson's "revelation of Finance, the Story of Amalgamated Copper," which begins in the July issue of Everybody's Magazine. Mr. Lawson was one of the organizers of that gigantic corporation, and he knows exactly what happened to the millions that were lost through its manipulation. His first article is an announcement of distinctly dramatic interest and promises revelations of the highest importance to everyone in the country. He frankly states that his purpose in telling the story is to set himself right with the thousands of investors who, through his instrumentality, put their money into Amalgamated and have been plundered; also because his conviction is that the best way to educate the public to realize the evils of which such affairs as Amalgamated are the result, is to expose the brutal facts regarding the conception, birth, and breeding of what he says is the offspring of the modern system of finance. The main narrative will deal with the real heads of Standard Oil and Amalgamated: H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller and James Stillman of the National City Bank. Addicks of Delaware, Heinze of Montana, and James R. Keene of Wall Street will figure among its chief characters; and we are promised such a showing up of financial personalities and methods as this country has not yet had, despite the disclosures of the recent ship-building trust expose.

The magazine has another feature of signal interest in the new Hall Caine serial, "The Prodigal Son," which also begins in the July issue. In this story Hall Caine returns to the style of "The Master" and "The Deemster," in which his real success was scored; and to Judge from the opening chapters, "The Prodigal Son" promises to be as absorbingly interesting as his great predecessors.

Other contributions to this issue are in keeping with these. There is a wonderfully clever summing up of the character of Judge Parker by E. M. Kingsbury; and E. G. Riggs, of the New York Sun, the dean of all political editors, writes of the supreme moments at the National Conventions he has attended in the course of his journalistic activity.

There are also seven exceedingly good short stories, including a capital naval story by Morgan Robertson, making altogether the best number of Everybody's that has yet been put forth.

CENSUS REPORT

Of Children of School Age In Christian County.

Report Shows a Decrease Over Last Year, Due Probably to Exodus of Negroes.

Miss Katie McDaniel has completed the census report of the children of Christian county between the ages of six and twenty for the school year 1904-5. The report follows: In city—white males, 587; females, 618. Total, 1,205. Increase of 25 over last year.

In city—colored males, 427; females, 609. Total, 1,036. Decrease of 71.

Total males in city, 1,014; females, 1,227. Grand total, 22,414. A decrease of 46 over last year.

In the county—white males, 2,558; females, 2,460. Total, 5,018. An increase of 12.

In county—colored males, 2,210; females, 2,308. Total, 4,518. Decrease of 18. Total males in county, 4,768; females, 4,768. Grand total in county, 9,536. Decrease of 6.

Total white males in city and county, 3,145; females, 3,078. Grand total, 6,223. Increase of 37.

Total colored males in city and county, 2,637; females, 2,917. Grand total, 5,554. Decrease of 89.

There are 5,782 males in the city and county and 5,995 females, making a grand total of 11,777 children of the school age in the county. This is a decrease of 52 from last census and is probably due to the recent exodus of negroes to Mississippi, as the decrease is in the colored column.

There are 146 school districts in the county—92 white and 54 colored.

BANKS WIN

The Lucas Suit Knocked Out In The Court of Appeals.

Banks Are Not Liable for Taxes on Their Deposits.

Frankfort, Ky., June 18.—The Court of Appeals today affirmed the judgment of the Jefferson common pleas court, third division, dismissing the suit brought by Auditor's Agent Frank A. Lucas, of Paducah, against the Bank of Commerce, seeking to assess and tax the deposits of individuals in the bank.

The whole court considered the case on appeal, and Judge Thomas H. Paynter delivered the opinion of affirmance. The ruling of the court, which is of wide interest and importance, settling the law and dismissing about three hundred cases filed against many banks in the State, is that banks are not required to pay taxes on deposits with them or assets which represent it, and that as trustee or bailee in possession they are not under a duty to list the property sought to be assessed by the proceedings instituted by Mr. Lucas.

The proceedings instituted by Agent Lucas were three in number—first, to compel the banks to list the property sought to be taxed upon the theory that the bank owns it; second, to list it as trustee; third, to list it as bailee in possession. The three proceedings were heard together.

Three significant paragraphs of the opinion are here quoted: We adhere to the conclusion announced in the case of Deposit Bank of Owensboro against Daviess county 102 Kentucky, that "Banks are not required to pay taxes on the money deposited with them by their customers or assets which represent it," and that under the law the depositors are required to pay the tax on money so deposited. Having reached this conclusion, it necessarily follows that the bank as quasi trustee or bailee or otherwise is not under a duty to list the property sought to be assessed by these proceedings, hence neither can the State.

It has never been the policy of the commonwealth to require bankers and banking institutions to pay taxes on their deposits or on that part of them preserved in cash, or on the part invested in notes, bills of exchange and so forth. So far as we are advised, no effort to do so has ever been made in a constitutional convention or in any legislative assembly in the State.

If this feature of taxation is required by the constitution then we must ascribe to the constitutional convention a purpose to make necessary legislation never suggested to it, much less demanded, by the tax-payers of the State, the practical effect of which would be to put out of business State banks and trust companies and likewise national banks, if they are subjected to the same taxation as other moneyed institutions of the State.

A STRANGE STORY

Horse Dies and Is Destroyed by Spontaneous Combustion.

Last Friday Mr. John Guy, of Ohio county, came to Owensboro, and on his way home, about two miles from Whitesville, his horse suddenly died. With the assistance of some men the animal was dragged into the woods and left. The next day a boy noticed a vapor rising from the body. He reported the matter and Sunday morning a number of persons went to the place and found nothing but bones of the animal, and these had the appearance of having been charred. On Monday something like 200 people visited the scene and all were struck with wonder at the evidently automatic cremation which had taken place. The story is related by Mr. J. H. Bowlds, and is vouched for by many of the best citizens of Whitesville and vicinity.—Owensboro Inquirer.

JUDGE BRADBURN

Wins in the Contest at Bowling Green.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 18.—Special Judge J. Osborne, of Cynthia, today decided the contest between Judge B. W. Bradburn and Judge John M. Galloway for the office of circuit judge in favor of Judge Bradburn, the Democratic contestant. An appeal was granted.

Judge Osborne, in going over the case, said it had been elaborately prepared, but that, as he was forced to return home immediately, he could not render an exhaustive opinion. He handed down a briefly written judgment. The district, (the eighth) is composed of the counties of Allen, Butler, Edmondson and Warren. The court held there was no interference in the Raleigh precinct in Allen county. In the Huntsville, Butler county, precinct, he held that the election was so conducted as to destroy the secrecy of the ballot, and threw out that precinct.

Judge Osborne said the whole day at Bee Springs, Edmondson county, was a day of riot and drunkenness and that the crowd was headed by the sheriff and his deputies; that persons were driven from the polls and intimidated. It was held no election was conducted in this precinct. By Judge Osborne's decision Judge Galloway's vote was reduced four at Durbin, Edmondson county.

In three of the Warren county precincts the election officers' certificates gave Bradburn 343 and Galloway 496, but the recount by the court changes the figures to 536 for Bradburn and 306 for Galloway.

According to the judgment entered Bradburn received a total of 7,140 votes and Galloway a total of 6,798. Bradburn was adjudged to have been entitled to the office and to the emoluments since January 1, 1904. He was given a judgment for his cost and expenses.

Johnson-Cowan.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kyger, of Rutherford, Tenn., was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Ruby Cowan, became the charming bride of Harry E. Johnson, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives there, and from a distance. A green and white color scheme was carried out with artistic effect in the decorations in both parlor and dining room. In the parlor caravans, sweet peas and palms added to the beauty of the room. Here the ceremony was performed. The attendants were Mrs. Esther E. Face and Mr. Felix McDaniel, of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Vera Yenkle was maid of honor, and Mr. Robb Morrison, of Paducah, Ky., acted as best man. The aisle of ribbon was formed by the bride's two little cousins, Ruth and Mary Beazley, and Mrs. A. J. Allford and Miss Bellick presided at the piano. The bride was never more attractive to her friends than in her bridal robes of white pearl de crepe with real Irish point lace trimmings, and long bridal veil pinned with an exquisite diamond brooch, her only ornament. A shower bouquet of lilies and carnations completed her toilet. She entered the parlor with her maid of honor and was joined by the groom under an overturned basket of lilies and sweet peas, where Rev. R. H. Brown impressively performed the ceremony. In the marriage of Miss Cowan, Rutherford loses one of its most charming and accomplished young ladies. An informal reception followed the wedding, when the guests had the pleasure of viewing the many handsome and costly presents, evidences of the warm regard of many friends. Among the most valued gifts of cut glass and silver is a chest of very handsome silver, the gift of the bride's mother. In the dining room the decorations were beautiful, while the elegantly appointed table was adorned with garlands of smilax and magnolias, with huge white ribbon bows. The refreshments were served in courses and were dainty and elegant.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left on the midnight train for a northern trip to enjoy the honeymoon. After July 1st they will be at home to their many friends in Paducah, Ky. Mr. Johnson is a prominent young business man locally identified with a large clothing establishment of that city. All their friends extend to them congratulations and best wishes. ***

SAMPLES OF MEANNESSES.

They Tales of Tightpurses That Are Unique Specimens of Stinginess.

These stories of mean persons are collected by an English newspaper.

A millionaire and his wife who were shown through a building at Windsor the other day handed the attendant a halfpenny. It was explained that it was the only copper the millionaire had, the other coins being all silver! There are ways of becoming a millionaire, and also of remaining one.

The story is told of a grocer who, when retailing a quarter of a pound of jujubes, cut one in half with a ham knife in order to make the balance true. A grocer had been handing a woman a few sweetmeats when she squared her weekly account. One night she asked what was the value of the sweets. She was told. She mentioned that she did not care for sweetmeats, and preferred if he would give her the value of them in sugar.

There was a sensation in a Glasgow street one evening when one man was seen pursuing another at a breakneck pace. The pursued, much the smaller man of the two, leaped on to a passing car. The pursuer leaped on almost at his heels, and, seizing the runaway by the collar, the two rolled off the car together to the street. Deeming it was a thief who had been caught, a crowd collected. "What was he doing?" asked a man as the two struggled to their feet, the larger tightly grabbing the smaller. "Ach, the mean bound," he gasped. "I stood him a glass o' beer along there, an' he was heit'n' without standin' to me. But I'll watch him." And he marched off his man.

WATER GOES THROUGH IRON

Curious Example of the Effect of Jet from a Leaking Pipe Upon the Metal.

It is a well known fact that water falling upon sand and pebbles will wear deep cavities in the solid granite of a river bottom. A story which involves similar action upon iron piping comes upon reliable authority from South Paris, Me., reports the Philadelphia Press.

The house of H. D. McAllister, of that village, is supplied with water from a neighborhood system through a three-quarter-inch galvanized iron pipe. The school-house near by is supplied through a pipe of the same kind and size from the high pressure mains of the water company. In order to save digging, both pipes were laid in the same trench, the high pressure pipe being above and touching the other.

Some time ago it was noticed that sand was passing through the pipe which supplies the McAllister house. An investigation was made, and it was found that the upper pipe had rusted through until a hole a quarter of an inch in diameter had been formed. This hole was on the under side of the pipe. The jet of water thus formed, together with the sand which it carried with it, had drilled a perfectly round hole three-quarters of an inch in diameter not only through the top side of the lower pipe, but through the under side as well. In a little basin formed under the whole was a quantity of sand ground very fine by the constant boiling through which it had passed.

Offended the Scots.

At the time of the king's accession a number of Scotsmen protested against the assumption of his majesty of the VII. after his name, he being, as they say, merely the first Edward of Scotland. The protest was made by the Scottish Patriotic association, but since then thousands of Scotch people throughout the world have signed it. The number of signatures obtained is so great that it has taken five bulky volumes to contain them. The books are now placed in the art gallery of Glasgow, and the corporation has undertaken their custody. The protest was first made on the field of Bannockburn in June, 191, a few months after the king's accession—London Mail.

BUT FEW INSANE BLONDES.

Persons of Dark Complexion Are More Prone to Mental Aberration Than They.

"Several months ago I happened across a pamphlet published by the government of a southern state in which were some interesting statistics regarding the complexion of the inmates of the state insane asylum," Hobart Langdon said, reports the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "Only three per cent. of the total had light hair and only two per cent. blue eyes.

"It struck me as a rather curious fact that dark-haired and dark-eyed people should so largely predominate among the insane, but the matter of latitude might play some part in this, I thought; for naturally there were more dark than light haired people in that section. Just as a matter of curiosity, however, I thought I would write to asylum authorities in certain other parts of the country to see what the ratio of light-haired inmates was to those who were dark, and expected to find the percentage increase in communities where the total of light-haired was larger, but in this I was mistaken. So I am led to infer from the statistics I gathered that there is a greater possibility for insanity among dark-haired than among light-haired people.

"My figures were obtained from 68 asylums, located in nearly every state in the union and a few in Canada and England. The total number of patients in these institutions was 16,512, of whom 703 had light hair and only 66 red or auburn locks. In other words, 96 per cent. of the inmates were brunettes, with either black or brown hair, the latter in varying shades. In one asylum in New England there was not a single inmate that was not a brunette. Of course, I do not know how to account for this, for I am not a specialist in such matters and only secured the statistics out of pure curiosity, but it certainly looks as though blondes were less liable to insanity than those with darker hair or eyes.

"Another peculiar feature about the facts I obtained, however, was that the percentage of those regarded as incurably insane was much greater among the blondes than among the brunettes. The totals show that among the dark-haired inmates only 53 per cent. were marked hopelessly insane, while among the blondes 81 per cent. were put in this category, and only three among the red-haired patients escaped the same classification."

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Daring Performance of Famous Aeronaut at a Height of One Thousand Feet.

Once when I was flying over Paris, a rope running from the long frame of the "engine room," suspended, got caught in the pulley, fortunately, in the long frame, not in the "engine room," writes Santos-Dumont, in World's Work. I walked along the frame, which is about three inches wide, sideways, leaned down, fixed the pulley and got back to my seat in four or five minutes. How high was I then? Oh, about a thousand feet, but I held on to the braces. If any thing happens to my engine, I am a balloonist, and therefore in a similar predicament to a sea captain whose ship has lost its propellers or broken its engines. He must hoist the sails or be at the mercy of the elements. The valves at the end of the balloon regulate the effect of the temperature upon the gas. If I have difficulty in rising quickly, I throw over some ballast, or let out water from the "engine room."

An Emperor's Mock Funeral.

The Emperor Charles V. had a morbid desire to see his own funeral service performed, so he went through the form of celebrating it. He gave orders for his tomb to be prepared, and while his servants marched there in procession he himself followed in his shroud. When he reached the church he was laid in his coffin and the service for the dead was chanted. Charles himself joined in the prayers. Holy water was sprinkled in the coffin and the mourners retired, leaving the pretended corpse alone in the church. The emperor then arose from his grave and returned to his apartments.—Detroit Free Press.

Tears and Fears

Go together with many women who are approaching the first experience of maternity. The husband finds it hard perhaps to understand the changing moods of his wife. Indeed she cannot understand herself. She only knows that she is nervous, restless and anxious. A great change has come over her which she cannot understand or explain.

Women do not always reflect that at this crisis they are living for two instead of one; that they need health for two and strength for two. The need for increased health and strength by the prospective mother is perfectly met and satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, promotes the appetite and gives refreshing sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother strength to give her child.

"I have before written you of the great benefit both myself and family have received from your most excellent medicine," says Mrs. P. S. Peterson, of Welcome, Wis. "I have since tested its wonderful powers in the case of the coming of my fifth child. Took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' the first two months and three of 'Favorite Prescription' the last two months. It saved me so much terrible suffering that I consider it a heavenly blessing."

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

The Record-Breaking Run of the Kentucky.

In stripping the Kearsage of her laurels gained in her record-breaking run from Southampton to New York the battleship Kentucky, one of the great fighting ships of the navy, marked up the records for the navies of the world and demonstrated once more the supremacy of American naval architecture.

In the fighting efficiency of the modern battleship speed and endurance are important factors. The floating fortress must not only have the guns and the men behind the guns, but she must be able to cover long distances at a high rate of speed without mishap. Judged by these standards the Kentucky must be crowned queen of the American navy.

Under the command of Captain Robert M. Berry and with Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans and staff on board, the Kentucky made the run from Madeira, 3,885 knots, at an average speed of 13.82 knots an hour. The record of the trip includes 12,916 knots from Hongkong in thirty-nine steaming days, being an average of 315 knots a day, including the slow passage of the Suez Canal, a record reached by no other war ship of the United States. During her absence of three years and seven months on the other side of the world her total sailing was 68,157 knots.

Several years ago the Kearsage stuck her nose in the air and made a dash from Southampton to New York at an average speed of 13.50 knots under natural draught. Upon this achievement she has received the plaudits of the whole country. It was pointed out that she had steamed 5,000 miles before her record run without having made repairs. But the Kentucky, before the run completed on Saturday, had steamed 9,000 miles to Honolulu and back making a total distance of 18,000 miles without repairs to engines.

Since the famous voyage of the Oregon from San Francisco to Florida from March 19 to May 24, 1898, there has been great popular interest in the long-distance runs of the battle ships in the American navy. The achievement of the Kentucky sets a new pace for the modern sea fighters.—Record-Herald.

THANKFUL PEOPLE.

They are Found in Every Part of Hopkinsville.

Many citizens of Hopkinsville have good reason to be thankful for burdens lifted from aching backs, which they bore patiently for years. Scores tell about their experience publicly. Here's a case of it. J. W. Fuhs, of 312 West Seventh street, who is employed at M. G. Forbes' planing mill, says: "The condition of my health was such as to cause me a great deal of worry about my future. I had an almost constant aching across the small of my back and the kidney secretions were highly colored, excessive and irregular, in fact, the disorder was so pronounced that it had been said that it bordered on diabetes. I also suffered at this time with indigestion, which caused me a great deal of distress. At one time I was scarcely able to do any work at all for nearly a year. I doctored and tried various remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Thomas & Travers' drug store, and by the time I had finished the box I found that they had brought about so decided an improvement in my condition as to convince me of their real worth, and I am more than thankful for the relief that I have received."

Miss Boyd has a host of friends in Beech Grove and McLean county, whose best wishes will follow her to her new home at Hopkinsville, where Mr. King has a good position with the Cumberland Telephone Company.

And so Mr. Charles Finch, whom twelve good men said should hang by the neck for complicity in a murder without a parallel for diabolical devilry, and which verdict was heartily approved by every one except the trial judge, and Mr. Ed Moseley, who was mixed up in the same crime, and whom the court has so far shielded from trial, are to be spared the worry and fatigue of a trial during the "heated term." Perhaps their cases will be gone into in September, provided the moon and weather conditions are altogether favorable and there is no objection from any quarter.—Pembroke Journal.

GOOD NEWS

For Subscribers of the Cumberland Telephone Company.

Letters From the People—Telephone Rates in Nashville.

To the Editor of the American:

The Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company charges the people of Nashville a much higher rate for telephone service than they do any other southern city. They charge for a single line residence phone in Nashville $4.50 per month; in Memphis, $3; Atlanta, $4; Montgomery, Ala., $3; Evansville, Ind., $2.50; Birmingham, Ala., $2; Knoxville, Tenn., $2 Chattanooga, Tenn., $1.50.

Now just think of it, this same company, giving the same telephone service to the people of these other seven cities—three in Tennessee, two in Alabama, one in Georgia and one in Indiana, all in adjoining states—at an average rate per month of $2.57, and charging the people of Nashville $4.50.

Why do they do it? The only reason I know of is that Nashville is an "easy mark." The people, or rather the people's representatives, the city officers, permit it to be done.

Some people think—they don't want to say it—but they think it looks "mighty suspicious." Other telephone companies have applied to the city council for rights to establish a telephone system here in Nashville and proposed to make the city a bond, good and sufficient, that they would do what they proposed to do, and guaranteed rates of $2 per month for all single line residence phones and business house phones at a proportionate rate. But our mayor—then Mr. Head—and the city council turned them down, and they did this, too, in the face of a plain charter requirement that says all such propositions or applications shall be first submitted to the mayor and city council and by them considered and put into proper and legal form and then submitted to a vote of the people. This was not done, and to a letter to each, the mayor and chairman of the city council, asking why they had proceeded as they had in the matter, I received an evasive reply, saying if I would call at their office they would explain, etc. I never called.

Now as to the above facts and figures, they are authentic. They are from the mayors of these seven cities, given in very plain typewritten letters over their own names, written in their own hands, and are all of recent date. I have the letters upon my desk and any body who wants to see them can read them.

The telephone company might say that their single line residence rate was only $4 per month, which is true only when paid strictly in advance, but if that is not done within ten days, and you wait until service is performed before paying it, it is $4.50 per month, when the average rate of all these other seven cities of about the same class as Nashville is only about $2.50, exactly $2.57, nearly 45 per cent lower rate than they give Nashville, and furthermore, these much lower rates are given in some of these cities where there are two telephone systems in operation and the business is of course divided, and if they can give a low rate where they only get a part of the business why can't they give a lower one where they are getting all the business.

Oh, that the Lord would give to Nashville a stronger city government.
